If you have any questions regarding social security, I invite your letters. Just send them to Ken Hargis, Social Security Administration, P.O. Box 1319, Texarkana, Texas 75501.

QUESTION: I am receiving benefits on my deceased father's social security record. I will be 18 in September and have one more year in high school. Will my social security checks stop when I am 18?

ANSWER: You can receive social security payments until you are 22, provided you attend an accredited school full-time and remain unmarried.

QUESTION: I was receiving social security benefits, but they stopped when I was 18 because I was not attending school. If I return to school in September, can I again receive my social security checks?

ANSWER: As long as you are unmarried and under age 22, you can be entitled to social security benefits when you return to school. You must be a full-time student and you will have to make a new application for student benefits.

QUESTION: I am a junior high school and wish to work this summer. I do not have a social security card. Can you tell me how to get one?

ANSWER: We are sending you form SS-5, Application for Social Security Number. Complete the application, return it, and we will issue you a card. Be sure all the information is filled in correctly and do not use a nickname.

QUESTION: I am only 13, but would like to have a social security card. Can I get one and does one of my parents have to come with me when I apply?

ANSWER: Yes, you can get a social security card and you will not need one of your parents with you. In fact, we are mailing you an application blank for a social security card. If you prefer, you can fill it out and return it to us by mail, and we will send you a social security card.

Wedding Vows Are Repeated

MRS. SIDNEY BURRIS TATE

At 11 a.m., June 20, Miss Martha Bolton Wimberly became the bride of Sidney Burris Tate in a ceremony at the First Broad Street United Methodist Church, of Kingsport, Tennessee. Officiating were Dr. Ben B. St. Clair and the Rev. Herbert C. Bolton, cousin of the bride.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Davis Wimberly of 1561 Crescent Drive, Kingsport, Tennessee. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. George Sidney Tate of 309 Robin Road, Paris, Kentucky.

The bride's paternal grandparents were the late Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wimberly, of Hope. Church decorations consisted of four urns holding gladioli, chrysanthemums, baby's breath and greenery, against a background of emerald greenery. Two candles burned on the altar. Honor pews were marked with white satin ribbons. A program of wedding music was presented by Mrs. Robert L. Ammons, organist, and Mr. Ben Basone, soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory organza and English net applique with Alencon lace motifs. It was fashioned with an empire bodice, crescent neckline, edged with lace appliques, and brief sleeves caught with pearl encircled bows. The A-line skirt, with lace appliques, extended into a full chapel train. Her cathedral-length French illusion veil was studded with pearls and lace appliques and held by a lace clip. She carried a bouquet of white roses and baby's breath.

Honor attendants were Miss Jamie Parsley, maid-of-honor, and Mrs. David H. Dorminey and Mrs. Cornelius C. Apfel, Jr., sisters of the bride, matrons of honor. They wore gowns of coral Saki styled with highrise bodices and inset midriffs with self-covered buttons and back bow, low square necklines and brief sleeves. The ankle-length skirts featured gathered back fullness. They wore tropicana roses in their hair, and carried nosegays of tropicana roses and baby's breath.

Bridesmaids were Miss Kathy Tate, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Patricia Moss, Miss Elizabeth Stegger, and Miss Beth Hageman. Their dresses were identical with those of the

Pine Bluff Wins Point on Census

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—Pine Bluff Mayor Austin Franks said Monday federal officials had assured the city that "every consideration" would be given to the contention that 1970 census figures were in error.

Preliminary figures showed a loss in population of about 2,300 persons since the 1960 special census. Franks said he thinks the city gained population.

Franks said he would ask the city council to authorize a special census if federal officials reject a claim that many persons were not counted.

Television and Radio

By JERRY BUCK

AP Television-Radio Writer HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Tracy Reed, a June graduate of UCLA, is beautiful, bright, talented and one of the growing number of young black actresses landing continuing roles in television.

Miss Reed had been planning to go on to Columbia University and major in journalism, but she heard last summer that "Love, American Style" was looking for performers. She said, "I'd never acted before but they signed me for the blackouts."

She did the blackout sketches during her senior year and in December read for the feminine lead in "Barefoot in the Park."

She was called back twice to read and was one of five girls selected for a screen test. "It was New Year's Eve when I was told I'd gotten it," she said. "That was a nice present."

"Barefoot in the Park" is one of two half-hour comedy shows based on creations by Neil Simon—the other is "The Odd Couple"—in the ABC fall schedule. Her costar is comedian Scoey Mitchell.

Until recently there wasn't much call for black ingenues, unless they knew how to sing and dance. Chelsea Brown followed that route, from "Laugh-In" to a dramatic role in "Mat Lincoln," a new ABC show originally called "Dial Hot Line."

Diahann Carroll made the most conspicuous breakthrough for a black actress with the lead in "Julia" and Gail Fisher won an Emmy this year for her role in "Mannix."

Other new regulars in the fall include Judy Pace in "The Young Lawyers" and Ena Hartman in "Dan August," both on ABC. Miss Pace was a regular on "Peyton Place" and has a string of movie and television credits. Miss Hartman also has appeared in a number of dramatic programs and movies, including "Airport."

According to Miss Reed, "Barefoot" isn't going to have "social overtones, but it'll be fun. It's mainly a love story. I think showing that we're alive and function the same as anyone else makes it as effective as a heavy drama."

"My mother and brother came down to watch the pilot and my mother said at first she was very conscious of the blackness. But after about 10 minutes it was just about two people."

She sees the character she portrays, Corie Bratter, as a happy, naive person. "She has the ability to wonder at things," she said. She's a little kookie and gets into situations impulsively that she can't handle. Scoey is the square, solid husband."

Bob Thomas at the Movies

By BOB THOMAS

Associated Press Writer HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Summer visitors to Manhattan will find that visiting the Broadway theater can afford a look at their favorites of the screen.

There's Katharine Hepburn in "Coco", but hurry up, she's being replaced by Danielle Darrieux on Aug. 3; Lauren Bacall in "Applause," and Maureen O'Sullivan in "Charley's Aunt."

Next season will bring more veteran stars from the movies. Danny Kaye has been signed to return to Broadway after a 28-year absence; he'll star in "Two by Two," adapted from Clifford Odet's "The Flowering Peach" with music by Richard Rogers. Another entry is Ruby Keeler, who will return after an even longer absence, appearing in a revival of "No, No, Nanette."

134 Tee Off in British Open Tournery

By THOMAS A. REEDY
Associated Press Sports Writer
ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, (AP) — A field of 134 of the world's greatest golfers teed off today in pursuit of the 1970 British Open Golf Championships and for the first time there was a chorus of voices claiming that somebody is taking the fire out of the Old Course.

To hear golfers beefing that the 6,951-yard par-72 links has been softened is rather like listening to mountain climbers who say Mt. Everest is a piece of cake.

Yet, this is happening as the most dramatic British Championship in a very long time pitted defender Tony Jacklin against Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer, Gary Player, Roberto de Vicenzo and innumerable other kings of the dollar-mad golf world for the next four days of 72 holes.

"They've taken the fire out of it," said Guy Wolstenholme, an Englishman who led the amateur field here with 283 in 1960 when Kel Nagel of Australia just beat Palmer by one stroke. Wolstenholme turned professional and now makes a good living out of Australia.

"They sprinkle the greens, they sprinkle the fairways and they've taken the sting out of the tail of the Old Course," the tall Briton observed.

"Once you could see your face on the shining greens," Wolstenholme mused.

"This was the magic of the Old Course. Now they are turning into just another target Golf American course and something is lost."

Others who either hated or loved this seaside links where the game was born echoed the same kind of presentment over the modern American idea of taking all the chance out of golf shots and substituting mechanical skill.

"Lee Trevino, disagreed with all this.

"All they are doing now, and for the first time, is making it fair," he said. "If you hit a fairway the ball should bounce straight and if you hit a green it should act that way.

"At Lytham last year (when Jacklin won the British Open) I hit one tremendous shot which bounced right off the golf course. Who wants it?"

This was the view Bobby Jones once held about St. Andrews and changed his mind. It also was what Sam Snead said, as well, but he never recanted.

Jack Nicklaus, the slimmed-down blond bomber, agreed somewhat with the critics of sprinkling though he wasn't against the principle.

He did say however that the tiger "is playing softish at the moment," and he added that St. Andrews is only at its best when it is hard, fast and skaty.

Nicklaus, winner in 1966 at Muirfield, is 7-1 favorite, replacing Jacklin, co-holder of the British and U.S. Open titles, who has been boosted to 8-1 along with Player.

Trevino, at 12-1, said: "I don't know what these odds are all about. I'm with it."

The field is cut at the halfway mark after today and Thursday to the low 80 and ties and then again reduced to the low 54 and ties for Saturday's 18-hole climax.

Apart from the 25-man American challenge to Jacklin, stars

Yankees Drop Back by 6 Games

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
It was only three weeks ago that New York's resurrected Yankees were eyeing first place in the American League's East Division. Now they're peeking over their shoulders instead.

Nine losses in the last 11 games—the latest a 6-2 whipping in Baltimore Tuesday night—have dropped the Yanks a fat 6½ games off the Orioles' pace and closer to fourth place than they are to first.

Detroit is hot on the Yankees' trail and a two-night doubleheader split with Boston left the Tigers just one-half game back of New York. Boston is running fourth in the American League East.

Boston won the first game 8-4 but the Tigers bounced back with a 4-3 decision in the 10-inning nightcap. Elsewhere in the AL Tuesday night, Cleveland swept a doubleheader from Washington 7-3 and 7-5, Milwaukee took two from Chicago 4-3 in 12 innings and 1-0, Minnesota topped Oakland 4-2 and Kansas City edged California 4-3.

In the National League, it was Chicago 10-7 over Montreal; New York 4, St. Louis 3; Pittsburgh 4-2 over Philadelphia; San Francisco 8, Atlanta 5; Cincinnati 3-0 over San Diego, and Los Angeles 7, Houston 2.

Three weeks ago, New York's mini-Bombers had crept to within 1½ games of the first place Orioles and were anxiously looking forward to the three-game series that started in Baltimore Tuesday night.

But the bottom has been falling out since then and their slide has made the series crucial only to the Yankees, trying to hang on to second place, but not the Birds.

New York rallied for a run in the ninth inning Tuesday to tie the score at 2-2 but it was a momentary thing. A walk, Frank Robinson's single and an error by Gene Michael loaded the bases in the bottom of the 10th and then Brooks Robinson crashed a grand slam homer to win it for Baltimore.

Mike Cuellar won his 10th, retiring 14 straight batters over one stretch after allowing an early homer to Yankee pitcher Mel Stottlemyre.

Rookie Elliot Maddox, whose eighth inning double had tied the score, gave Detroit its second game victory over Boston when he opened the 10th with a home run. Reggie Smith and Mike Andrews hit consecutive homers for the Sox.

Smith, who had five hits and four RBIs in the doubleheader, started a three-run Boston rally in the first inning of the opener with a homer and Rico Petrocelli later added a two-run clout. Jim Northrup hit a pair for the Tigers.

Milwaukee moved past Chicago into fifth place in the West by sweeping the White Sox.

Ted Savage's pinch homer in the 12th inning broke up the opener for the Brewers and rewarded Marty Pattin, who went all the way with the victory. In the nightcap, Lew Krausse pitched a four-hitter and turned in Milwaukee's first shutout of the season. Mike Hegan scored the game's only run when he doubled, moved up on a sacrifice and came in on a throwing error.

The sweep gave Milwaukee four straight victories. Chicago has dropped eight of the last nine.

Ray Fosse drove in four runs with five hits including a homer and triple, in Cleveland's sweep over Washington. Eddie Leon also drove in four and Graig Nettles three.

Fosse tagged a bases-loaded single that drove in the tying and winning runs in the first game before Nettles' three-run double clinched the victory. Then, in the nightcap, Fosse tripped for another run, and also homered.

Frank Howard tagged a homer in each game for Washington, increasing his season total to 23.

The sweep moved the Indians past Washington into fifth place in the AL East.

Harmon Killebrew's bases-loaded double drove in three runs and Minnesota rallied for four runs in the fifth inning to whip Oakland.

Stan Williams hurried five shutout innings in relief to earn the victory.

Reliever Ted Abernathy, acquired from St. Louis last Thursday, picked up his third straight victory for the Royals.

Bill Sorrell's pinch single drove in the decisive run in the eighth inning after Paul Schaaf opened with a single and moved up on a grounder.

National Players Love Astroturf

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
Artificial turf might not be everybody's ideal playground, but the ersatz greenery has been a magic carpet for Los Angeles' Willie Davis and Cincinnati's unsung pitching staff.

Davis cracked four hits and drove in four runs on the synthetic turf of the Houston Astrodome Tuesday night, leading the Dodgers past the Astros 7-2 for their sixth consecutive victory.

The swift center fielder, batting .306 over-all, has hit at a .517 clip (30 for 58) on artificial playing surfaces in Houston, San Francisco and St. Louis.

Davis hasn't had a shot yet at the Astroturf of Cincinnati's Riverfront Stadium, where the runaway Reds blanked San Diego 3-0 behind right-handers Gary Nolan and Clay Carroll.

The power-packed National League West leaders have hit just four home runs in nine games at their new park, but their pitchers have hurled four shutouts in the last six.

Elsewhere, the New York Mets nipped St. Louis 4-3 and clung to one-half game East Division lead over the Pittsburgh Pirates, who beat Philadelphia 4-2; San Francisco downed Atlanta 8-5 and the Chicago Cubs slugged Montreal 10-7.

In the American League, Baltimore slammed the New York Yankees 6-2 in 10 innings; Minnesota topped Oakland 4-2; Kansas City edged California 4-3; Cleveland swept a doubleheader from Washington 7-3 and 7-5; Milwaukee took a pair from the Chicago White Sox 4-3 in 12 innings and 1-0, and Boston split with Detroit, winning the opener 8-4 and bowing 4-3 in the 10-inning nightcap.

The Dodgers snapped a 2-2 tie in the sixth inning on Len Gabrielson's run-scoring pinch single and then wrapped it up with four runs in the eighth ... the first three on Davis' bases-loaded triple. Davis also knocked in the tying run in the fifth with one of his three singles.

Despite their streak, the second place Dodgers remained 9½ games behind the Reds, who reeled off their fourth straight victory as Nolan, 10-4, and reliever Carroll combined to scatter seven hits.

Ron Swoboda drew a bases-loaded walk on a 3-and-2 pitch with two out in the ninth, giving the Mets their fifth straight victory. Jerry Grote's third hit, a single by Tommie Agee that extended his hitting streak to 18 games and an intentional walk set the stage for the deciding walk issued by reliever Sal Campisi.

Roberto Clemente opened the eighth with his fifth July homer, breaking a 2-2 tie and sending the Pirates to their third straight win and sixth in seven games. Manny Sanguillen stroked three hits for the winners, scored one run and drove in a pair.

Dick Dietz delivered five runs with a single and his 18th homer, a three-run blast in the seven

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
BATTING—Willie Davis, Dodgers, cracked four hits and drove in four runs in Los Angeles' 7-2 victory over Houston.

PITCHING—Lew Krausse, Brewers, shut out Chicago 1-0 on four hits in the second game of a doubleheader as Milwaukee swept two games and moved into fifth place in the American League's West Division.

th that severed a 5-5 knot, as the Giants came from behind to beat Atlanta and end a four-game losing string.

Willie Smith, who had doubled and singled in his last two at-bats Monday, drilled four consecutive singles and delivered four runs as the Cubs mauled Montreal. Billy Williams also smacked four hits, including his 25th homer, for Chicago.

8 Pitchers in All-Star for National

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Veteran Jim Merritt and rookie Wayne Simpson, who have combined for 27 victories for the high-flying Cincinnati Reds, were among the eight pitchers named today to the National League All-Star team.

The selections by Manager Gil Hodges of the world champion New York Mets were announced by the National League office here.

Merritt and Simpson, along with Joe Hoerner of Philadelphia and Claude Osteen of Los Angeles, were named to the All-Star team for the first time.

Bob Gibson of St. Louis, Tom Seaver of the Mets, Gaylord Perry of San Francisco and 46-year-old reliever Hoyt Wilhelm of the Atlanta Braves were Hodges' other selections. Hoerner, Merritt and Osteen are the only left-handers.

The annual baseball classic will be played July 14 in Cincinnati's new Riverfront Stadium.

Gibson, who won his 10th consecutive game last Sunday to make his season record 12-3, is the senior member of the staff in All-Star experience. He is on the squad for the seventh time and has appeared in four games.

Wilhelm was named to the NL team for the first time since 1953, when he was with the New York Giants. He was an American League All-Star selection three times.

Early this season, Wilhelm became the first pitcher in major league history to take the mound in 1,000 games. He had a 2-3 season record through Monday.

Merritt, 14-6 and Simpson, 13-1, will be among the Reds playing before hometown fans in the game. Catcher John Bench and third baseman Tony Perez, were named to the starting NL lineup in voting by baseball fans.

The Reds' solid pitching this season, added to their usual power hitting, has made them runaway leaders in the league's Western Division.

Seaver, last year's Cy Young Award winner, had a 13-5 season record through Monday. Osteen was 11-7 for the Dodgers, Perry 12-8 for the Giants and Hoerner 5-3 as a reliever for the Phillies.

Manager Earl Weaver of the Baltimore Orioles was to name the American League All-Star pitchers later today.

America Cup Trials Under Way

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — The offense belonged to Valiant and Intrepid in the opening races of the observation trials for America's Cup defense candidates.

After trouncing Heritage Monday, Valiant was to meet Weatherly today, while Intrepid, which defeated Weatherly, was to sail against Heritage.

Travs Win Rubber From Blues

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Travelers rewarded the largest crowd of the year — 7,765 — by scoring six runs in the last two innings to overtake and defeat the Memphis Blues 9-8 in the rubber match of their five game Texas League series Tuesday night.

First baseman Wayne Dees singled with the bases loaded and none out in the ninth to drive in the tying and winning runs and leave Arkansas with a two-game lead over the Blues in the Eastern Division.

The Blues began to panic in the eighth when the Travs routed Charlie Williams and scored four runs and they never got anybody out after Billy Stein led the ninth with a double to left-center.

In other Texas League action, Amarillo defeated Albuquerque 6-1, San Antonio edged Shreveport 5-4, and Dallas-Fort Worth defeated El Paso 11-5.

Wrestling Panel Set Up for U.S.

EDMONTON (AP) — A temporary commission will be established to represent the United States in the International Amateur Wrestling Federation (FILA), federation President Roger Coulon of France said Tuesday.

The commission is to be formed with the hope that U.S. wrestling groups can solve their differences by a union of amateur wrestling associations, he said in an interview following a meeting with U.S. representatives.

Wrestling officials from around the world were in Edmonton for meetings during the World Wrestling Championships here.

The commission will have equal representation from the U.S. Amateur Wrestling Association and the U.S. Wrestling Federation, he said.

The U.S. Amateur Wrestling Association, affiliated with the Amateur Athletic Union, now represents the United States. But the U.S. Wrestling Federation says it should be the representative because the AAU has neglected a number of sports, including wrestling.

Freestyle events in the 17th World Wrestling Championships begin here Thursday with the finals scheduled for Saturday.

Cynthia Hill Invited

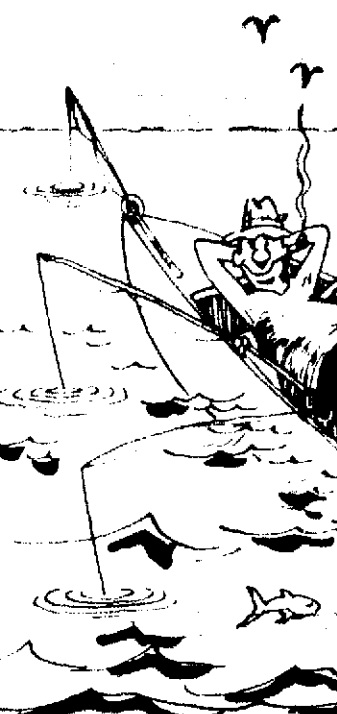

NEW YORK (AP) — Cynthia Hill of South Haven, Mich., low amateur in the recent U.S. Women's Open Golf Tournament, was one of eight invited to represent the United States in the Curtis Cup Match against Great Britain and Ireland, the U.S. Golf Association announced.

Others invited to make up the 18th U.S. Curtis Cup team for the match at the Brae Burn Country Club in West Newton, Mass., Aug. 7-8:

Jane Bastanchury, Whittier, Calif.; Mrs. Paul Dye, Indianapolis; Jane Fassinger, New Wilmington, Pa.; Nancy Hager, Dallas; Shelley Hamlin, Fresno, Calif.; Phyllis Preuss, Pompano Beach, Fla.; and Martha Wilkinson, Fullerton, Calif.

If any player declines, an invitation will be extended to one of the following alternates in the order named:

Barbara McIntire, Colorado Springs, Colo.; Connie June Day, Cleveland, Tenn.; and Hollis Stacy, Savannah, Ga.

N.Y. Betting Parlors Hit a Bonanza

NEW YORK (UPI)—A million bets a day and $50 million a year in profits were forecast Monday for the city's new off-track betting parlors.

"This is the first time in this country an attack has been made by a governmental structure going after a major part of organized crime's business," said Howard J. Samuels, installed Monday as chairman of the new Offtrack Betting Corp.

Both Samuels, who lost the Democratic gubernatorial nomination last month to Arthur J. Goldberg, and James Cavanaugh, city budget director and another member of the five-man corporation, predicted $50 million profits in the first year even though the city has not leased any sites and has not contracted for any equipment. Samuels promised the system will open in October as scheduled. Plans now are for 100 parlors to be set up as soon as possible, doubling the number later.

Cavanaugh said the new system will pay better odds than the bookies and, given the choice between betting parlors and bookies, bettors would prefer the legal parlors.

The parlors will handle wagers on races at two New York flat tracks, one harness track and "one or two" out-of-state tracks, Samuels said. Machines at the parlors will be tied in electronically with the pari-mutuel machines at the in-state tracks.

For out-of-state betting, the city would set up its own pool, Cavanaugh said, which means the odds at the parlors may vary widely with the odds at the track.

It was predicted that the parlors will have a total of 1,000 windows to take bets ranging from $2 to $100 from 7 a.m. to midnight six days a week, excluding Sunday.

Telephone betting will be accepted from customers who have placed deposits. Code numbers will be assigned which the customer must use in phoning in his bet.

Payouts will be made at any parlor, for a specified period of time, later only at central locations.

Samuels said one of the key problems facing the corporation would be recruiting and training personnel. Security checks will be taken to keep out persons with criminal records, he said.

New Tax Stirs Crisis in Thailand

BANGKOK (AP)—The Thai government ordered a full-scale military alert in Bangkok early today amid signs that a serious political crisis was brewing over new tax increases.

The prime minister, Field Marshal Thanom Kittikachorn, told newsmen he had ordered the garrisons of the 1st Army, known as the "coup army" because of its leading role in past coups d'etat, to stand by for trouble.

Air Chief Marshal Dawee Chulapanya, chief of staff of the Supreme Command, told newsmen the alert was a precaution against Communist infiltration into the capital which the police department had detected.

It appeared, however, that the predominantly military government was showing its muscle to scare off hostile public reaction to recent sharp increases in import duties and sales taxes which have forced up the prices of almost all commodities.

Some of the import taxes were increased as much as 100 per cent.

Although aimed directly at the rich, the taxes were passed on almost immediately to the poor through increases in the price of rice and other staple foods. Several members of Parliament from the government-backed United Thai Peoples' party have announced they will not support the new tax bill when it is presented in parliament Thursday for approval.

The government party was scheduled to meet later today to whip up support for the new taxes, and Thanom scheduled a nationwide TV-radio broadcast to explain the need for the tax increases.

Political observers felt that if the measure was defeated in parliament, the government would have to resign or abolish parliament. The latter course, a frequent event under past governments was considered most likely. Parliament was revived only 18 months ago after almost 10 years of martial law. The present regime has been in power since the army coup of 1957.

In Asia There is 'Proof' for Almost Anything You Desire

By DANIEL De LUCE

Associated Press Writer
In Hanoi as well as in Saigon, a visiting American can find "proof" of almost anything he wants to believe about the war.

With comparable fervor of emotion and the same assurance that time is on the speaker's side, warring leaders in North and South Vietnam have told me alike that they see signs in 1970 of ultimate victory despite the war's painful course.

In this little cockpit of Asia, after a generation of struggle and five years of major American participation in combat, contradictions still thicken the fog of war.

Last February in Hanoi, North Vietnam's Foreign Minister, Nguyen Duy Trinh, gave me the Communists' interpretation of current events:

The South Vietnamese masses want independence above all else—a country from which all foreign military forces have retreated—and they will continue their patriotic self-sacrifice until this is achieved.

Because the United States is arming a huge Vietnamese army under a small clique of generals in Saigon, the war will be protracted. But in the end, national liberation forces will prevail, a few generals may flee to their secret fortresses in Switzerland, and South Vietnam will arise an independent, neutral state living in peace.

That is Hanoi's version.

For the Saigon government's view, Lt. Gen. Hoang Xuan Lam is an able spokesman, dispensing with any interpreter and speaking directly in English.

General Lam commands I Corps Tactical Zone, two infantry divisions, and five provincial governments. His forces near the 17th Parallel are South Vietnam's shield against "northern invaders."

He is five years younger than President Nguyen Van Thieu, his comrade in arms, and reached the rank of lieutenant general about five years later than Thieu. He was born within 20 miles of the Ben Hai River, the present dividing line between North and South Vietnam. He has many medals for valor.

"Why do our people continue to fight? Because they can't stand to live under Communist rule," said Lam.

"We know that if we like to be free, we must fight."

"I have 150,000 troops and thousands of territorial platoons, the Popular Forces, which are scattered through 1 corps."

"Not one of my platoons has gone to the hills." Not one has deserted.

"The Communists say they will continue to fight 10 more years. We will fight longer—and win."

Traveling from the chemically poisoned meadows of the Demilitarized Zone to the green wonderland of the Mekong delta, I met no doubters in the South Vietnamese officer corps.

In North Vietnam, the troops I saw of the People's Army looked smartly trained and appeared to be provided with the best of the nation's resources.

In South Vietnam, the 18 months since the Americans' policy of Vietnamization started have been good for the South Vietnam Army (ARVN).

Good fortune has deluged ARVN with military hardware from American reserves, and financed an increase of 100 per cent in regular troops, with American grants.

There's no mistaking the elan of the South Vietnamese officer corps at this time.

It is not among South Vietnamese leaders but among some American officials, in private remarks and casual hints, that a visitor finds doubts about the ultimate outcome.

North Vietnamese leaders do not have the problem of morale among a host of foreign advisers, because they are on their own. The confidence and determination in North Vietnam are not displayed in an echo chamber of foreign doubts.

You ask, "Is pacification succeeding?" and again find "proof" of many answers. U.S. and ARVN briefings say it is. Ninety per cent of South Vietnamese hamlets are now government-secure, according to official statistics.

However an American official concedes that some of the hamlets aren't in their old locations, which were in free-fire zones. They're hunched next to cities and next to the sea.

This is why, flying 2,500 miles in helicopters and light planes, you note that much, perhaps two-thirds, of the country looks deserted. Guerrillas may roam in parts of it by night. Not even a water buffalo can be seen grazing in daylight.

Will the South Vietnamese remain loyal to Saigon's friendship with the United States after an American military withdrawal? An American quotes a Vietnamese proverb in an attempt at an answer:

"If you have enough money, you can buy angels."

From the perspective of five years of American military operations, what do South Vietnamese think of the United States' effort in their behalf? A public opinion poll, conducted with U.S. government funds by Vietnamese employees, shows widespread appreciation. Then you hear another Vietnamese proverb quoted by an American:

"If you bring home elephants, they will trample the graves of your ancestors."

Why are any Americans in South Vietnam uncertain about the future, since ARVN is being strongly armed, the home-front Vietnamese economy is continually bolstered by dollar aid, and U.S. air and sea forces are supreme in Southeast Asia?

A high-ranking American risks being candid:

"You can help too much and too long. There's an erosion that goes on in the spirit of men."

Are we Americans trying to win the war? Are we trying to end the war? Facing a U.S. emissary in Saigon, you ask these questions. He replies:

"We're just trying to build up Vietnam to the level where it can sustain its own independence. That's certainly possible."

You ask, how long? What cost?

The man in Saigon shakes his head.

"Those questions," he says, "can be answered better in Washington."

Space Fund Cut Rejected by Senate

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—After sharp debate on how best to spend the nation's money, the Senate has resisted attempts to ground part of the space program while voting an extra $700 million for sewers, urban renewal and pure water.

The two-day debate on national priorities and fiscal responsibility ended Tuesday when an $18.6 billion catch-all money bill, $1.2 billion heavier than requested by President Nixon, was sent to conference with the House.

In close votes, the Senate refused to trim any funds from the budget for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, a reluctance which Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., said resulted in a "public works extravaganza," and "an out and out bonfire for the aerospace industry."

"Calls for fiscal responsibility are regularly heard in the Senate," Proxmire said Tuesday after the 38-35 vote defeating his move to cut $122 million from the NASA budget and reduce it to the $3.197 billion spending level set earlier by the House. The final Senate figure for NASA was $3.319 billion.

"If we are going to make a start toward controlling these unneeded expenditures," he said, "this is the place to do it."

The Senate followed its rejection of the Proxmire vote by adding $400 million to funds for urban renewal grants and $300 million for sewerage and water treatment facilities.

The latter proposal, opposed by many of the senators who fought to maintain space spending levels, was followed by a surprise space cut proposal by Sen. William Fulbright who was stopped from a bid to strip $300 million from the space program only by last-minute vote switches.

"We have spent billions of dollars to bring back moon rocks to put on display in the Smithsonian Institution," the Arkansas Democrat said.

It is a thrill to see them, he said, in a sarcastic tone that brought laughs from the gallery. "But not nearly the thrill of smelling the Potomac River on a hot night."

Sen. Gordon Allott, R-Colo., and other senators opposed to increased spending for other items in the omnibus independent agencies appropriations bill insisted fiscal responsibility demanded restraint.

And Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., who was defeated 58 to 42 in his attempt to add funds for space research, told the Senate: "We've dumped billions of dollars into the cities of this country and I can't see any improvement."

New York City was a better place to live in during the depression, Goldwater said, than it is now after the spending of tens of billions in local, state and federal money.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield disagreed: "I think people are really becoming more interested in appropriating funds for difficulties here on this planet than in exploring other planets at enormous costs."

The first reporting date for NFL training camps has been pushed back a week to July 14, Commissioner Pete Rozelle announced Tuesday, in order to give the negotiating committee of the NFL Players Association and the club owners a full week in an effort to reach a collective bargaining agreement.

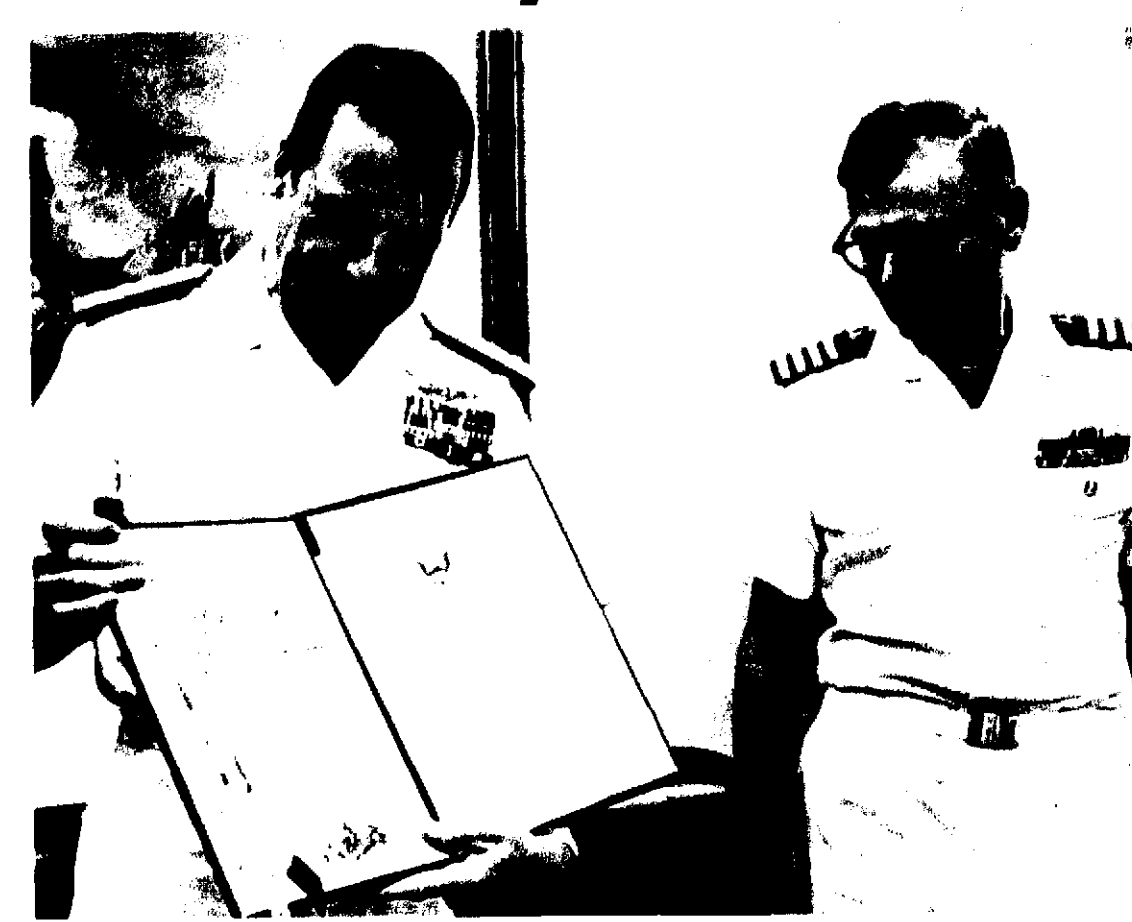

The delay, which Rozelle said he ordered after consulting with the negotiating committee, affects only the rookie camps of Dallas, Kansas City, Cleveland, Miami, Chicago and Cincinnati. They had various opening dates, beginning Friday.

Marjorie Rambeau Dies

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Character actress Marjorie Rambeau, whose lusty, grande dame roles won her two Oscar nominations, died Tuesday after a long illness. She was 80. A veteran of more than 60 years on stage and screen, she was featured in movies and television even after a car accident left her crippled 25 years ago. Miss Rambeau became the youngest leading lady in the history of the American professional theatre in 1902 when she played the title role in "Carmilla" in Portland, Ore., at the age of 13.

After success on Broadway, Miss Rambeau was one of the first stage actresses brought to Hollywood to star in early talkie films. Her first movie was "Her Man" in 1930.

She drew Oscar nominations for best supporting actress in 1940 for "Primrose Path" and in 1953 for "Torch Song."

Her movies included, "Tobacco Road," "Tugboat Annie Sails Again," "Man of a Thousand Faces" and "A Man Called Peter."

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

William Lloyd Garrison began publishing the "Liberator," an abolitionist newspaper, in Boston Jan. 1, 1831. The World Almanac recalls. Garrison wrote editorials in the Liberator demanding the immediate abolition of slavery in the United States and denouncing slaveholding as a crime.

"Jackie has just taken up the Blackwood convention. She also has decided that experts don't ever open two bids. Hence her one-spade starter. I passed with some misgivings but you can't have everything and I didn't have any aces or faces. Jackie almost fell off her chair but East reopened with two diamonds and Jackie burst into four no-trump.

"Here was Blackwood hitting me right in the face. I knew I should bid five clubs but I could just see Jackie forgetting that I didn't need clubs for that call and either passing or going to six or seven. So I decided to try five hearts. This produced a six-spade bid from Jackie and a diamond lead from West.

"Down came the dummy. 'Where are your two aces?' hissed Jackie. It takes quite an effort to hiss those words but Jackie managed.

"I couldn't have two aces and pass one spade" was my reply.

"At this point, East got into the act to inquire if Jackie was going to play. She did and was East unhappy? She led the king of clubs. West ducked. Jackie discarded a diamond from my hand and continued with the queen. West covered this. Jackie ruffed, got back to her hand with another ruff, played her ace-king of spades and made her slam after they dropped the queen and 10."

14 of 15 BOAT

The lake will be pure. The DeGray project is 71 per cent complete. This includes the massive dam that stretches across the Caddo River channel, the scenic overlooks, the road is now being paved across the dam and the engineers have put up signs inviting the public to see how their taxes are being spent. Of primary interest to people around Arkadelphia is the boat launching facilities. The engineers have complete 14 of the 15 public boat launching ramps with the work on the final landing at the dam to be started soon. These ramps will have small camp sites with water and sanitary facilities installed and possibly there will be power connections at a small charge. At this time, the recreation areas that are being built will be free of charge to the public. All roads to the recreation area will be paved and the launching ramps are concrete. The water level is down over 20 feet at this time to allow work in the reservoir, and the water level prohibits use of the boat ramps because of underbrush and the like where toping has not been done. The power pool, or everyday at the dam, will be 408 feet and the warm water discharge requested by the Arkansas Game and Fish Commission will be taken from the 408-367 foot mark, depending on the water level and the water temperatures. A 68 kilowatt power output is scheduled for the dam. The smaller of the two turbines, 28 kilowatts, has the capability to pump water from the lower control pool back up into the reservoir, thus saving water and keeping the river at a constant volume of 250 million gallons of water per minute at the control dam. At this time, the Caddo River is no more than a trickle, but, according to Stafford, this is normal for the river because of the dry season. When the powerhouse goes into operation in December of 1971, all lake facilities will be complete.

Youth Plunges Into State Campaign With Unprecedented Vigor

By TOMMY YATES
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Youths in the state seem to have dived off the high board into politics this year and when they come up for air some of the candidates may be left gasping. Youths, those described between 18 and 35 years of age, appear not to be content with just getting their feet wet this year, they are going under all the way and youth leaders in the state think the outcome of some state races may be determined by the youth movement. Bob Gibson of Jonesboro, president of the Arkansas Young Democrats, and Tom Dillard of Little Rock, chairman of the Young Republican League of Arkansas, agree that there is more political activity by Arkansas youths this year than ever before. Some of the causes for the increased youth activity, Dillard said, are the lowering of the voting age, the war in Vietnam and campus unrest. Gibson and Dillard agreed that another reason was because there is such an array of candidates this year. Youth activity has increased substantially over four years ago, Dillard said. He said the Young Republican membership has increased to 2,000 today. Gibson said the Young Democrats hoped to have 5,000 youths involved by the time of the general election. Dillard said another reason there is more interest by youths in the Republican party is that former Gov. Orval E. Faubus is in the race as a Democrat. "Young people are especially interested this year in preventing a return of the 'Old Guard," Dillard said. "That's helped us a lot." Dillard said the average young person in Arkansas is very idealistic. "They want to see the right thing done," he said, "and they can't understand why politicians are just plain people, with all the faults people have." Dillard said this was noticeable in the Eugene McCarthy presidential campaign two years ago because this was "an idealistic movement. They (the youth) want someone close to perfection as possible." Dillard, 21, who graduated from State College of Arkansas last May, said he thought this idealism on the part of youth was great but that it could lead "to disillusionment when it's not fulfilled and makes some of them go outside the traditional political framework in their thinking, such as why cast a ballot when a Molotov cocktail would be more effective." Dillard said he did not think the Republicans could have won the governor's office in 1966 or 1968 without the backing of youth and "I think we'll have the youth support again." "After the Democratic primaries, when they see we're faced with a rebirth of the 'old guard,' youth will swing to our side even more than they already are," he said. Gibson said one of the big developments that has helped youths in the Democratic party was that the Young Democratic national convention last December voted to permit local clubs and state clubs to endorse candidates prior to the primary. This is something the Republicans cannot do. "This will be a tremendous help because the experience they will gain in the local campaigns and individual campaigns will be helpful for the general election," Gibson said. "I think it'll bring more recognition and more emphasis on the state Young Democrats than in the past," he said. He said he expected the state Young Democratic Committee to endorse one of the candidates when the YDs meet July 18. He said he thought youth was swinging to the Democratic party.

New FHA Program Aids Builders

Builders in Hempstead County and vicinity may put up more homes for rural families because of a new program of the Farmers Home Administration, County Supervisor Harold Foster announced today. Under the plan, Foster said, FHA, the rural credit agency of the Department of Agriculture, can issue a conditional commitment agreeing to finance new or substantially rehabilitated homes for as many as 15 families at a time. Previously, he noted, home financing could be assured only as individual families applied and were approved. With the conditional commitment, builders can proceed with the construction of up to 15 homes in an area, with reasonable assurance that financing will be available to qualified purchasers. The conditional commitment does not reserve funds for a loan nor does it provide for construction financing, Foster pointed out, "but with the growth of the rural housing individual loan program from $486 million in fiscal 1969 to $821 million this year, and with more than $1.4 billion projected from 1971, expansion of rural housing opportunities is assured.

Naviaux. "If the creatures are found hurt, they are either released to the wild, or destroyed," he added: "In the form of letters, I have received the backing of Gov. Ronald Reagan, Sens. George Murphy and Alan Cranston, the American Veterinary Medical Association and the California Department of Fish and Game. But I'm still doing it all myself. "I get a lot of personal satisfaction out of it—and that's what it boils down to, I guess. Wildlife is just a basic interest of mine."

Naviaux, a graduate zoologist from the University of California, is particularly proud of his role during the Santa Barbara, Calif., oil leak disaster last year. Reported Troop Slash Stirs Korea

By K.P. HONG
Associated Press Writer
SEOUL (AP) — The Nixon Administration's plans to cut the 60,000-man U.S. force in Korea caused a stir today in the South Korean government, which did not expect such a move until the late 1970s.

U.S. Ambassador William Porter called on Premier Chung Il-kwon Monday to tell him of his government's desire to reduce its forces in the peninsula, the premier's press officer announced today. American officials accompanying Secretary of State William P. Rogers on his current Asian tour said the two governments would begin consultations "rather soon" on the troop reduction.

Rogers and South Korean Foreign Minister Choi Kyu-hah discussed the subject Sunday in Saigon, where they attended a conference of Vietnam war allies. Rogers told Choi the Nixon Administration is considering a troop cut for budgetary reasons. But informed sources said Rogers assured the foreign minister the United States would not renege on its commitment to defend South Korea against aggression from North Korea.

Foreign Ministry sources said Choi was returning to Seoul tonight a day ahead of schedule to report to President Chung Hee Park on his talk with Rogers. Following press reports that Washington might call home one of its two infantry divisions in Korea, Park and other government leaders said recently that the present level of U.S. forces is still needed in Korea because of increased North Korean threats and provocations. They said U.S. forces in South Korea will have to remain at their present strength until after 1978, "at least because the nation still is not strong enough militarily and economically to cope with the Communist threat from the North."

In the 17 years since the Korean Armistice, the United States has helped train and equip South Korean armed forces that now total more than 600,000 men, and South Korea has been a showcase of U.S. economic assistance in Asia.

Democrats Strike Back on TV

By LEE BYRD
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — It was the premiere of the Lawrence F. O'Brien show, the latest episode in a burgeoning movement to make more use of television as the playing field of political football.

And, in prime time, the Democratic National Chairman looked the camera straight in its red eye Tuesday night and accused President Nixon of broken promises, of "ringing calls for action, but few results."

"Con job," responded Republicans, suggesting they would need their own show to rebut.

Not that the growing tendency among political circles to speak softly and carry a big makeup kit is limited to party warfare.

Vietnam doves are filing a complaint against the networks in hopes of gaining more air time to lobby for an antiwar measure. War supporters are demanding time to answer the doves.

Fact is, television is finding itself as much a government battleground as the halls of Congress and the hometown rally. O'Brien's 25-minute broadcast for CBS radio-TV was the first of several shows the network allotted the Democratic National Committee to answer Nixon's broadcast speeches and news conferences.

O'Brien said Nixon had "promised to bring us together again. But that is the opposite of what is occurring, polarization encouraged by Vice President Agnew in speech after speech across the country."

Even before the program was aired, Deputy Republican National Chairman James N. Allison Jr. called a news conference and declared, "The Democratic National Committee is attempting one of the greatest con jobs in the history of American politics."

That brought a return cry of "shabby as the broken promises of the Nixon administration" from the Democratic committee.

Republican Allison indicated the GOP probably would ask the networks for equal time.

Traffic danger: Collisions between bicycles and motor vehicles now take about 800 lives yearly. More boys than girls are killed, and the accidents are 50 per cent more prevalent among children from 10 to 14 than among those under 10. Three out of four of the collisions occur during the period from April through September.

Ever wonder why steak is priced so high? One reason is that the 590-pound carcass weight of a live 1,000-pound steer yields only about 140 pounds of steak. The rest consists of roasts, 170 pounds; ground beef and stew meat, 155 pounds; bones, fat and water, 125 pounds.

have come to the lake to fish. But according to James P. Stafford Jr., resident engineer, the fishing is not good in some places because of rotting vegetation.

Tree-topping operations in the upper end of the lake has caused the water close to the top to become depleted in oxygen, somewhat the way sewage acts on fresh water.

The rotting vegetation has robbed the water of the amount of oxygen to sustain life at the upper levels of the lake surface.

According to Stafford, the water is pure and good at the 20-foot depth and fishing is pretty good where the water is clean.

This vegetation deposit has turned the water around the shoreline and the intake structure at the powerhouse a deep tan color, somewhat the color of brine. This condition will not, however, persist and it is safe to say that within a year when the lake is fully completed that the water all over

Cambodia Bill Faces Defeat in House

By ROBERT A. HUNT
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The initial House test of the Senate-passed Cooper-Church amendment to curb future U.S. operations in Cambodia may come Thursday, but even its supporters expect to lose.

The main hope of the proposal's backers evidently is to run up a big, even if losing, vote for the plan passed two weeks ago by the Senate after nearly two months of debate.

No concrete plan for action has been set, but indications are that Rep. Thomas E. Morgan, D-Pa., chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, may try Thursday to send the foreign military sales bill—which includes the Cooper-Church amendment—to conference with the Senate.

If he does, House backers of the amendment say they plan to try and bind the House conferees in advance to the Cooper-Church language, which cuts off U.S. spending for Cambodia.

At that point a motion to table and thus kill the instructions could be expected. The test vote would follow.

Morgan, who has made clear his opposition to Cooper-Church in its present form, said he wants to go to conference with the Senate without any instructions.

President Nixon, in a radio-television interview last week, indicated he hopes a modified version of the amendment would come out of the House-Senate conference.

The President emphasized two points: recognition of what he says is his constitutional power to protect U.S. troops; and authority to pay the bill for Asian nations sending troops and advisers to Cambodia.

Senate sources earlier said they felt the key fight in the conference will be over the latter point. Opponents claim it would lead to U.S. employment of Asian mercenaries to carry on the fight in Cambodia on behalf of this country.

The Cooper-Church amendment, with an effective date of July 1, would bar funds for "entering into or carrying on any contract or agreement to provide military instruction in Cambodia, or to provide persons to engage in any combat activity in support of Cambodian forces."

It also would prohibit the president from spending any funds without congressional consent for retaining U.S. forces in Cambodia, sending military advisers to instruct Cambodian forces and providing air combat to Cambodian forces.

Rail Strikers Ordered Back by President

By CARL C. CRAFT
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) —

Trains of three struck railroads began moving again today after President Nixon acted quickly to end the surprise walkout by United Transportation Union members.

Invoking emergency provisions of the Railway Labor Act, the President ordered the strikers back to work for 60 days while an emergency board seeks to settle the dispute over re-employment of firemen on freight and yard diesel engines.

UTU picket lines were removed from key junctions in most of the 16 states where rail passenger and freight traffic was halted Tuesday.

But in Pensacola, Fla., employees of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad remained on strike. It was not clear whether the UTU members were acting in direct defiance of the presidential order in keeping the trains idle.

The Labor Department reported Tuesday night that union members throughout the nation would return to work as soon as possible.

The department said the National Railway Labor Conference, the industry group representing more than 125 railroads, rescinded its consideration of a lockout of employees and threat to shut down the system.

The UTU called the strike suddenly Tuesday after charging the lines with refusing to bargain in good faith over the use of firemen on diesel engines.

Spot checks early today of areas served by the Baltimore & Ohio, Louisville & Nashville and Southern Pacific railroads showed most pickets down within hours of Nixon's order.

Nixon's decision came on the recommendation of the National Mediation Board and Secretary of Labor James W. Hodgson after a day in which passenger and freight trains were stopped or slowed in at least 16 states. Management spokesmen estimated 18,800 UTU members were idled with another 60,000 workers off the job as a result.

The President designated Fred M. Livingston, a federal mediator who had quit the case in June after several months of talks proved unsuccessful, to head the emergency board looking into the 12-year controversy over the need for firemen on diesel engines. The union maintains at least three men are needed in each locomotive for safety reasons. The railroads dispute this.

Parker set a Thursday hearing on the injunction move.

Highway Bids Set for July 29

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Highway Commission announced Tuesday that bids would be opened July 29 on eight road projects costing an estimated $2.2 million.

The projects by county: ASHLEY: Resurfacing of 7.78 miles of Arkansas 52 between Arkansas 82 and 81.

LEE: Surfacing of 5.37 miles of Arkansas 261 from its junction with Arkansas 259 east to Holub.

JEFFERSON and ARKANSAS: Resurfacing portions of Arkansas 79 from the west city limits of Humphrey northeast for about 12 miles.

JACKSON: Concrete surfacing of about 6 miles of Arkansas 224 beginning about 1 1/2 miles south of the Arkansas 224 spur and extending southwest about 6 miles.

CLEBURNE: Resurfacing of Arkansas 25 from Drasco to the Independence County line.

PRAIRIE: Resurfacing of 11 3/4 miles of Arkansas 11 from its intersection with Arkansas 38 west of Des Arc northwest.

CALHOUN: Resurfacing of about 6 1/2 miles of Arkansas 264 beginning at Tinsman and extending north.

MISSISSIPPI: Surfacing of Arkansas 77 for about 5 miles between its junctions with Arkansas 118 and 14.

Link Between Conglomerate, Bank Studied

By H. L. SCHWARTZ III
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) —

A heavily lobbied bill to regulate business conglomerates whose holdings include a major bank is heading toward an almost certain floor fight in the Senate.

Sen. Wallace Bennett of Utah, ranking Republican on the Banking and Currency Committee that reported out the bill Tuesday, said insurance, travel, computer and accounting interests put up a stiff fight to have the panel retain House restrictions on conglomerate activities.

The measure requires holding companies owning a bank to unload subsidiaries if, in the opinion of the Federal Reserve Board, these interests were involved in activities too closely related to banking.

The bill calls for divestiture in five years, although allowing the board to extend this another five years. Holding companies would be allowed to retain any acquisition they owned on March 24, 1970, or one on which they had made a binding commitment to acquire.

The House version would have changed that date to May 9, 1956, which Bennett said, "would have killed everybody who had been legitimately going along."

Present law exempts from government regulation any holding company that owns one bank. This provision has allowed conglomerates to branch into banking-related fields to the point that 40 per cent of all commercial bank deposits are controlled by 900 holding companies.

The Nixon administration has sought legislation to curb this expansion, but it opposed a list of prohibited activities and the 1956 date included in the House bill.

Missiles Score at Suez

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) —

The recent downing of three Israeli jets by Egyptian-based anti-aircraft missiles marks the first effective combat use of improved SAM-2 batteries, U.S. military sources say, and carries ominous implications for American planes flying over North Vietnam.

The trouble could come, these sources said, if the Soviet Union makes the same improvements in North Vietnam's SAM-2s sometimes used against U.S. reconnaissance planes and their escorts.

Changes in the SAM-2s reportedly involve much better electronics mechanism for guiding the missiles to their targets.

U.S. pilots have had great success evading older SAM-2s, mostly by flying tight turns in the air. The SAM-2s accounted for only about 10 per cent of the 926 U.S. warplanes lost over North Vietnam since 1965.

Only nine U.S. aircraft have been lost, none to SAM-2s, since American planes were limited to reconnaissance flights Nov. 1, 1968.

Some U.S. sources indicate the installation of improved SAM-2 batteries near the Suez Canal may be at least as significant militarily as the appearance of the newer SAM-3, another Russian-built anti-aircraft weapon designed to be fired against low-flying planes.

Thant claimed that Soviet personnel were in Egypt for training purposes and that Russian missiles installed there were purely defensive.

An Israeli Foreign Office spokesman said Thant's remarks in Geneva seem to reflect the "very intensive briefing to which the secretary-general appears to have been subjected during his recent stay in Moscow."

In Cairo, the newspaper Al-Ahram said Egyptian military experts have discovered "many of the secrets of Phantom jets and its electronic equipment."

Studies were made on parts of the five Phantoms downed last week, Al-Ahram said.

Retired Brig. Gen. Chaim Herzog said the reaction of the Russians will doubtless be governed by the degree of importance they place on President Nixon's recent warning and to what degree they believe it will be backed by deeds.

8,000 Reds in Egypt, Say Israeli

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Israel's army chief of staff declared today that there about 8,000 Soviets in Egypt, 3,000 of them soldiers, pilots or experts operating weapons and missiles.

The rest are advisers and instructors, Lt. Gen. Haim Bar-Lev told the semi-official newspaper Davar.

Bar-Lev was quoted as saying his army now faced the prospect of having to fight the Russians.

"But we will not be deterred from any action which is possible and necessary for our continued hold on the cease-fire line," he said.

The Jerusalem state radio said that the Israeli Embassy in Washington has warned that Soviet pilots are likely to fly missions in the Suez Canal zone and even beyond the waterway into Israeli-held territory.

These Soviet flights will occur unless the Kremlin's involvement in Egypt runs up against "a real response" from the West, the broadcast said.

The warning was included in a document circulated by the Israeli Embassy in Washington Tuesday night, the radio said.

The document claimed that the Soviets have completed three stages in their military aid to Egypt—establishment of SAM3 surface to air missiles near Egyptian cities, operational missions by Soviet pilots in Egypt's inner airspace, and setting up of SAM3's in the embattled canal zone, 10 miles from the waterway itself.

"The Soviets are waiting to see what will be the direct reaction to these steps they have taken, and it is clear that if this reaction is passive, they will open a fourth stage which is likely to include Soviet flights over the canal zone and even beyond it," the document claimed.

The background material was released following Israel's charge Monday that the Soviets have placed the sophisticated SAM3's in the canal area and had even fired some of them at Israeli planes.

Left-and right-wing Arab newspapers in Beirut rejected Israeli claims that Soviet missiles and crews were operating in the canal zone. They said this was a hysterical campaign to solicit more U.S. military aid for Israel.

Arab papers and radios gave prominent coverage to U.N. Secretary-General U Thant's statement in Geneva Tuesday. Thant said the Soviet peace proposals for the Middle East have "certain new and constructive elements."

Thant claimed that Soviet personnel were in Egypt for training purposes and that Russian missiles installed there were purely defensive.

An Israeli Foreign Office spokesman said Thant's remarks in Geneva seem to reflect the "very intensive briefing to which the secretary-general appears to have been subjected during his recent stay in Moscow."

In Cairo, the newspaper Al-Ahram said Egyptian military experts have discovered "many of the secrets of Phantom jets and its electronic equipment."

Weather Alert in 35 Counties

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thirty-five Arkansas counties were placed under a severe thunderstorm watch this morning as showers and thunderstorms moved across the state.

A severe thunderstorm developed in the Batesville area about 4:30 a.m., producing hail and high winds.

Officials said several trees were uprooted and some power lines were knocked down. Lightning struck a Sterling Store in Batesville, knocking several bricks off the building.

A single engine plane was heavily damaged when it was blown loose from its moorings at the Batesville Airport. Air port officials clocked winds up to 55 miles an hour.

No other damage was reported.

The shower and thunderstorm activity is expected to continue in the state until the passage of a cold front Thursday.

The forecast calls for continued warm temperatures through Thursday with highs in the mid 90s. Highs Tuesday ranged from 85 at Harrison to 91 at Little Rock and El Dorado.

Overnight lows included 73 at Fayetteville, 70 at Harrison, 69 at Jonesboro, 77 at Pine Bluff, 78 at Texarkana, 77 at El Dorado, 74 at Memphis, 76 at Little Rock and 72 at Fort Smith.

2nd Dies From Transformer Explosion

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — William F. Maxwell, 43, of North Little Rock died Tuesday from burns he received July 1 in an explosion and fire at the state Capitol.

The explosion, which knocked out electrical power at the Capitol for several days, also killed Bernard J. Engle, 55, of North Little Rock, the assistant chief of maintenance for the Capitol. Maxwell received burns over most of his body when the power plant at the Capitol burst into flames after the explosion of an oil switch.
